Control Stick Function

The Nintendo® 64 Controller contains a Control Stick which uses an analog system to read the angles and direction of its movement. This allows subtle control that is not possible using the conventional + Control Pad.

When turning the Control Deck power ON, do not move the Control Stick from its neutral position on the controller.

If the Control Stick is held at an angled position (as shown in the picture on the left) when the power is turned ON, this position will be set as neutral. This will cause games using the Control Stick to operate incorrectly.

To reset the neutral position once the game has started, let go of the Control Stick so it can return to its centre position (as shown in the picture on the left) then press START while holding the L and R Buttons.

The Control Stick is a precision instrument, make sure not to spill liquids or place any foreign objects into it.

This game is compatible with the Controller Pak and the N64 Expansion Pak. Before using these accessories, please carefully read the instruction booklets that come with them. Make sure that the Control Deck is turned OFF when inserting accessories.

THE DISPLAY

Game play occurs in two different scenarios: the Trek Mode and the Combat Mode. While travelling from town to town, you are playing the game in Trek Mode. After encountering an enemy, you enter the Combat Mode. See page 13 for more information.

Trek Mode

- Alaron – Alaron always represents the entire party while travelling throughout the realm.
- Sun Dial – The Sun/Moon rotates around the 12-hour dial, showing the time of day. Try not to be on the road at night!
- Compass – The direction you are facing is highlighted on the compass, with the other directions shaded out.
- Party Members – Press the B Button at any time to view portraits of each party member along the bottom of the screen.

DIALOGUE

While travelling through villages, towns, forests and castles, Alaron can talk to any of the friendly characters he meets. Approach a character and press the A Button to begin a conversation.

One character begins the conversation, then the other character replies. They continue taking turns until the conversation is complete. Sometimes, Alaron has many questions to ask a character or has different answers for their questions. When more than one question or thought is displayed, use the Control Stick to select a phrase and press the A Button. When the discussion for that topic has been completed, new questions or phrases will be displayed. You can not return to a previous list of questions, so choose Alaron's queries wisely.

BUYING AND SELLING ITEMS

Approach a merchant and press the A Button to begin a transaction. After greeting the merchant, you may choose to buy an item, train, or quit the transaction. When purchasing an item, press the C Up Button to see if the price is fair.

The Buy/Sell interface will be displayed if you decide to buy an item. Use the Control Stick ←/→ to choose between BUY and SELL, then press ↑/↓ to find an item to purchase or to sell.

Above the SELL column, the amount of Gold you own is displayed. Beneath the BUY column, the value of the selected item is shown in Gold Pieces. This shows how many Gold Pieces you need to purchase the item, or how much money you will receive from selling the item.

Note: Not all merchants offer training. See page 15 for more information on increasing your skills.

Combat

Alaron will face many enemies throughout his adventure. When an enemy force attacks, you enter the combat mode. Your entire party joins you on the battlefield facing the enemy forces.

Each character can move within a certain radius per turn, determined by their Stats. A heavily armoured knight does not move very fast on the battlefield. Instead, he moves in close with a powerful frontal assault. A thief, on the other hand, can dash around a slower foe and use a deadly backstab to attack with. A spellcaster with a large arsenal of magic can catch the enemy in the crossfire. Try to gain high ground during combat for a bonus to your attack, or use a bow to strike from long range.

TURN BASED ATTACKS

The combat system allows each character to move and attack within a certain area, determined by that character's Stats (see PLAYER STATS on page 22). Use the Control Stick to move a party member, then press the A Button to begin the attack. Magic users may cast a spell with the C Down Button.

If a character is unable to attack, press the Z Button or A Button to complete the turn.

Combat Mode

• Selected Character

All characters in your party appear on the battlefield. The selected party member will be in the middle of the screen during his or her turn.

- Enemy Health – Each enemy involved in the battle is shown along the left side of the screen. Next to each enemy portrait is a Health Bar. When the Health Bar is gone, the enemy is defeated.
- Combat Messages – The bottom portion of the screen displays messages during combat. These will let you know whose turn it is and will display Hit/Miss messages after an attack.
- Spell/Item Menu – By holding the C Down or C Up Buttons, you can view the Spell Menu or Item Menu. Continue holding the Button and use the Control ↑/↓ Stick to highlight a Spell or Item. Press the A Button to use it in combat.

After distributing your experience points on the Level Up screen, you will view the Treasure screen. Any items the enemy dropped during battle are displayed on the left side. - Inventory – The party's items are shown here. If a party member is using an item, an icon will appear next to the item. Use the Control Stick ←/→ to view other Skills and Stats for each character.
 - Stats – The statistics for each character represent how well he/she will do in combat. See page 22 for more information.
 - Skills – Each character uses unique abilities and skills in combat. Training can increase these abilities. Try to find different masters/teachers in the various towns and villages.
 - Spells – Magic users employ additional abilities, which are displayed in the Spells column.
- Equipped Items – The Bottom/Left of the screen shows all the items, weapons, and armour, as they're equipped on each character. The icons represent various parts of the body where armour and weapons are used. These include the head, neck, torso, back, waist, fingers, hands, and feet.

Press START to pause the game and use the R Button to advance to the Calendar Screen (see the previous section for more information). Now select CAMP and press the A Button.

It is possible to be ambushed by monsters at night. A party member with a high Ranger skill will significantly reduce the risk of an ambush.

Player Stats

The characters in Aidyn Chronicles: The First Mage™ learn from their experiences in battle. As they defeat each enemy, more experience points are awarded to the party members. Experience points may be exchanged for increased Statistics (Stats) or Skills. Each increased Stat improves a character's overall abilities.

There are six basic Stats to increase, and a number of Skills each character can learn by training with a master.

The basic Stats are:

- Intelligence – Increased Intelligence helps a mage's spellcasting and a warrior's long range attacks.
- Willpower – This aids a character's magic resistance to enemy spells.
- Dexterity – The ability to be quick will give a character bonus attacks while in battle and will help him or her avoid enemy attacks. A character can also move farther in battle.
- Endurance – These points are known as "lethal damage points". When a character's Endurance points reach zero, death is close behind. Increase Endurance to raise a character's Bonus HP.
- Strength – Each blow delivered to the enemy causes more damage when Strength is increased. Also, his or her chances of hitting the enemy are increased.
- Stamina – Stamina decreases during spellcasting, disarming traps, picking locks, and making armour and potions. Considered "non-lethal damage points", when Stamina drops to zero, points are taken from Endurance. Be sure to keep your Stamina up by resting.

Weapons & Items

As Alaron explores the realm, he will come across various items to either use, equip, or sell.

- Weapons – You can find Sword, Hafted, Pole, Thrown, or Missile weapons in stores or after combat. Sometimes a faster weapon is better than a weapon that causes more damage because you are given a better chance to hit the enemy. Be sure to equip the most appropriate weapons according to each character's list of skills.

- Armour – Armour not only helps clothe each character, but it also helps protect them from enemy attacks. Equip the best armour for each member of the party to be able to withstand enemy attacks - keep in mind heavy armour will slow down your quicker characters.
- Rings – Rings will alter a character's protection rating, spell casting abilities, or combat abilities.
- Potions – Keeping healing and curing potions can be very helpful when deep within a forest. Remember to use your potions when in combat.
- Scrolls – Scrolls contain spells that can be used in battle. You must equip a character with the scroll before using it. The spell will then be available in battle by pressing the C Down Button.

You can learn the spell permanently by accessing the Inventory Menu and using the scroll. Aside from finding items after defeating an enemy, items are also scattered throughout the realm. Well-hidden treasure chests have been known to contain everything from gold coins to armour and weapons.

To find items while travelling, look for treasure chests that are hidden – usually off the beaten path. Press the A Button to open a chest. If the chest has a trap, you will be asked if you want to disarm the trap. If you fail to disarm the trap, the entire party will take damage by opening the chest. If a character's Thief skill is not high enough, the party will be unable to open the chest.

Treasure chests also contains locks. If a lock is found, you need to choose a party member to pick the lock. If successful, the chest opens allowing access to the treasure within.

Note: Choose the party member with the highest Thief skill to unlock the chest.

Characters

Alaron

A headstrong young squire, Alaron was orphaned when he was still an infant. Taken in by the King, he's in training to become a knight - if he can stay out of trouble, that is. Unbeknownst to him, events are soon going to sweep him into an adventure that will change his life forever.

Brenna

Also orphaned when she was very young, Brenna had to learn to make her own way in the world before the King brought her under his protective wing. An accomplished thief (though don't call her that to her face), Brenna is Alaron's closest companion and truest friend – even if they do fight constantly!

Abrecan

The very essence of a knight, Abrecan is the captain of the guard, sworn to the defense of the King. Devotion to honour and duty is his life. His gruff exterior belies his concern that Alaron's promise as a knight will go unfulfilled. Abrecan's strength and skill with weapons is unsurpassed.

Rheda

One of the youngest wizards in the kingdom, Rheda's passion sometimes gets the better of her. She's obsessed with curing her friend Niesen, who was cursed by a necromancer. As Alaron's instructor in the arts of magic, Rheda has great knowledge of spells and magic – useful abilities when danger strikes.

Godric

The castle alchemist, Godric is a few beakers short of a flask. He's brilliant, but more than a little erratic, as anyone who's been unfortunate enough to be near one of his more incendiary experiments has discovered. Still, no one in the castle knows more about herbs and potions, making him extremely useful to the kingdom.

Becan

Once a heroic knight, Becan saved the life of the King in battle. But now he rejects the horror of war and lives a life of peace and solitude. An expert tracker and skilled woodsman, Becan wants to help Alaron on his quest, but struggles with his principles and returns to the field of battle.

Arturo

Built like a siege engine, this armoured mass of muscle is none too bright. But if there's one thing you can say about Arturo, it's that he'll do anything to become a knight. His single-minded pursuit of his goal makes him an ideal companion for Alaron, although his idea of battle tactics leaves a bit to be desired.

Keelin

This beautiful and unscrupulous thief is an expert in getting what others want, for a price. But now she wants something for herself – Alaron! An invaluable asset to the party, Keelin may nonetheless be more trouble than she's worth sometimes.

Niesen

Niesen and Rheda became friends at the Wizards' School in Talewok, where both were studying to become wizards. Now cursed by a necromancer and doomed to slowly turn undead, Niesen's search for a cure leads him to join Alaron in his quest. Seemingly unconnected, the two will find their destinies more intertwined than either could have imagined.

Donovan

This swashbuckling duelist doesn't understand the meaning of the word surrender – or the meaning of the word "caution", for that matter. Supremely confident, his prowess in combat just might equal his boasting – but there are greater dangers ahead than can be dealt with sword alone.

Baird

Part poet, part barbarian warrior, Baird sees himself as the lead character in a great heroic epic. While he's often a little too concerned with how history will see his actions (and has an unfortunate habit of reciting dramatic verse at inopportune moments), he's a good person to have at your side when trouble starts.

Dougal

A master troubadour, Dougal can fight and cast spells with skill equal to his abilities with song and verse. Friendly and gregarious with others, Dougal is surprisingly closemouthed about his past. But is he truly hiding something? And if so, what is his secret?

Sholeh

One of the mysterious race known as the Jundar, Sholeh is something of an enigma. Sharing the typical Jundar contempt for humankind, Sholeh nonetheless finds them fascinating in a strange way. An expert in Star magic and a seasoned warrior, Sholeh's loyalty may be somewhat questionable.

Controller Pak

Aidyn Chronicles: The First Mage™ is compatible with the Controller Pak accessory. Before using the Controller Pak, read its™ instruction booklet carefully. Aidyn Chronicles: The First Mage™ supports "hot" insertion of the Controller Pak accessory; the game will search for empty controller accessory slots and will prompt you if it finds any. If you wish to insert the Controller Pak at any other time, please turn the Control Deck OFF before doing so.
